NIFDI Launches New Website Full of Resources!

The National Institute for Direct Instruction (NIFDI) recently launched a newly designed and refreshed website full of tried-and-true resources and new tools for both veteran and new-to-DI users! Our goal with the new site is to make Direct Instruction-related information easy to access and utilize. Some of the features of the new site include:

- Free Online Tutorial on Implementing DI Successfully (featured in January's Edition of NIFDI News!)
- Blogs by Drs. Kerry Hempenstall and Martin Kozloff
- Archived Copies of the Journal of Direct Instruction (JODI) and DI News
- Information About and Access to NIFDI's Newly Developed Open-Registration Events
- Free Downloads of Program Resources (Placement Tests, NIFDI's Materials Cost Sheet and more!)
- Expanded Store on DI-Related Books and Materials
